FOREWORD

Statues are strong and lasting in the minds of men. They are symbols of life, war, peace, fame, tribulations and joy, but above all -- memories. So is our Yearbook, firm and durable, filled with memories. And the student, like a statue, faces the world -- observing but gathering knowledge with the passing of time, standing erect with wisdom, courage and fortitude.

DEDICATED TO . . .

. . . Miss Anne Romanczyk

The class of 1965 wishes to dedicate its yearbook to Miss Anne Romanczyk.

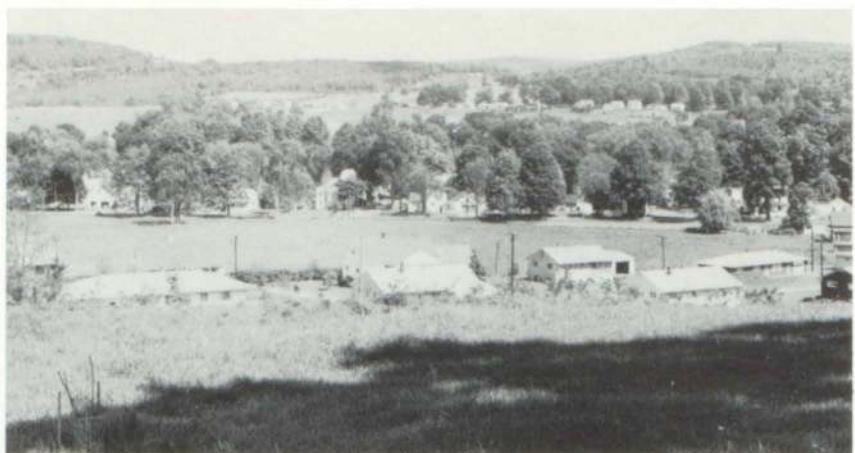

Miss Romanczyk has, for the last four years, been our capable advisor. During these years she has worked faithfully and diligently, sacrificing her time and devoting her talents for the good of our class.

In our memories of high school, who could forget the Sophomore Harvest Dance, the success of the Junior Prom, and the enchantment of the Christmas Ball? None of these could we think back on without remembering Miss Romanczyk working beside us all the way.

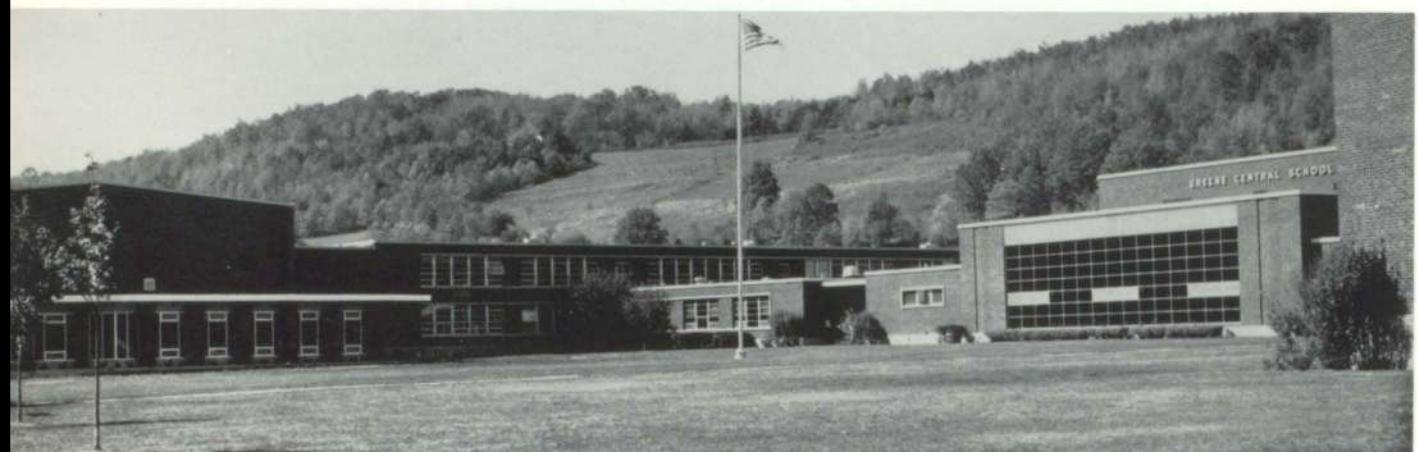

It has been said that patience is a virtue, and who but our class could know the patience she had, not only in keeping us financially intact, but injecting into us that last boost of spirit which will carry us on in the future.

It is now with great appreciation of her aid to us, that we bestow upon her this token of our gratitude.

... OUR VILLAGE

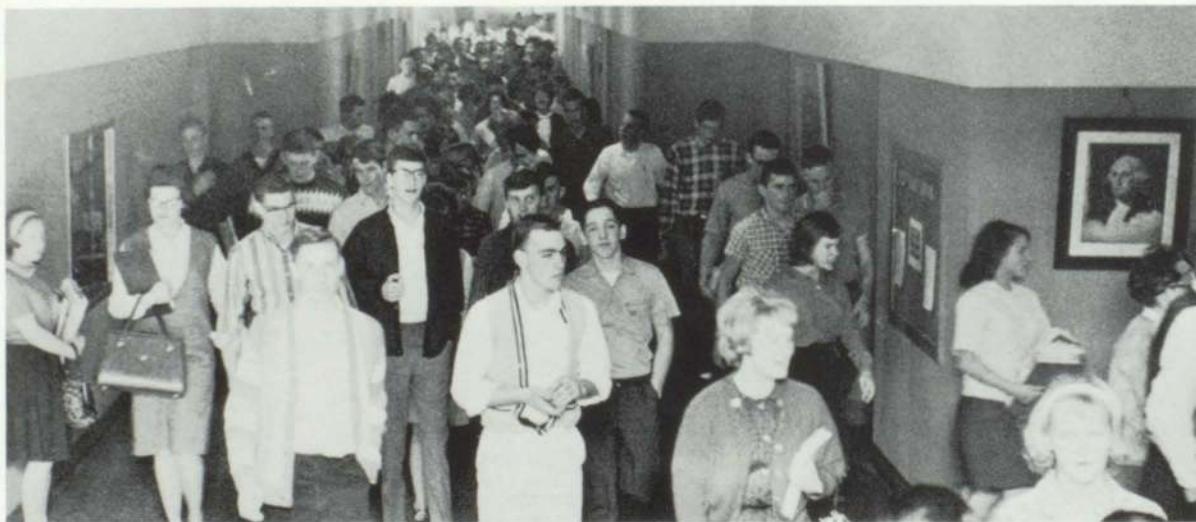

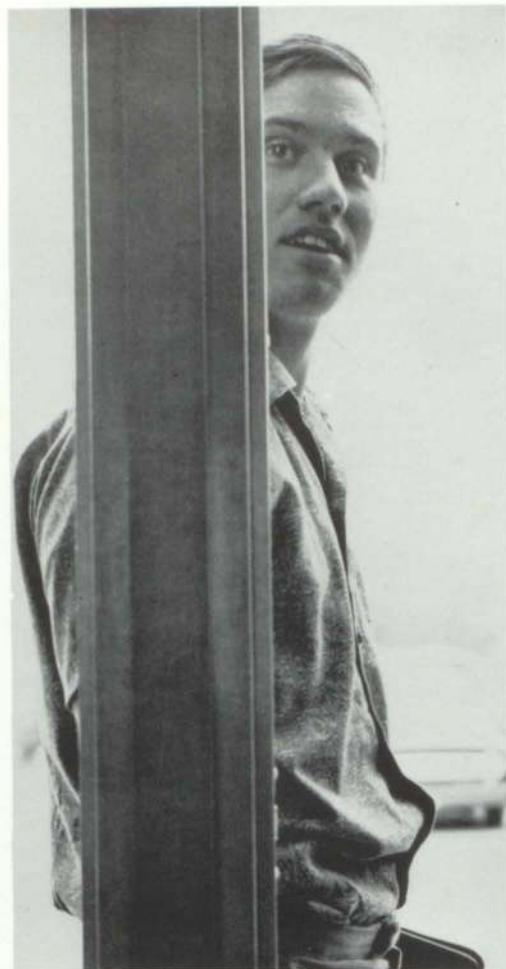

A student wanders, with thoughts of the past and the future. His mind is filled with memories and goals to seek. Memories are something to be cherished while the future is ours to be lived. With this in mind, here is our yearbook - a mixture of memories, dreams, but most important . . .

Learning experiences are as vital to education as are monuments to a proud nation. Only by applying his knowledge can a student keep the spark of education glowing. No better means of developing responsibility and cooperation are offered than through conscientious participation in our own. . .

... ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council strives to give each student an active voice in student government. It is the mouth piece of the student body, and serves to represent them to the faculty and administration. Each class is represented equally to insure proper representation.

This year, under President Jerrye Dann, the council has helped to promote good relations between the students and the faculty. Suggestion boxes have been set up in various places for the student body. Several bulletin boards have also been put up to tell the student body what the council is doing.

Finally, a grievance committee will take the gripes and suggestions to the administration, in order to form a more representative and effective Student Council.

In 1921, a nation-wide organization called the American Torch Society, was formed to give scholarship more recognition. Character, leadership, and service were also considered primary qualifications, and these were strongly encouraged.

Later, the name of the group was changed to the National Honor Society, but the purpose remains essentially the same.

The National Honor Society strives to recognize as well as to encourage, the four basic qualifications. Membership is a reward for efficiency in the fields of scholarship, leadership, character and service, but it also serves as a goal for others to reach. Thus, these qualifications have become symbols of importance and achievement, and The National Honor Society has helped to place the proper significance on the values of character, leadership, scholarship, and service.

Who can measure the influence of a teacher? How can one find words to describe the task of an administrator? With sincere thanks for the help given and with appreciation of the tremendous task, we present our . . .

. . . FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

To The Class of '65

June 25, 1965, a date you have been waiting for, for many years. Now that it has arrived, what will it mean to you?

Possibly the end of your formal education, possibly the beginning of a higher educational program. Whatever it is, we wish you much success and happiness. As the years roll on, I am confident you will remember high school as some of the best days of your life.

Robert N. Bennett
District Principal

The Class of 1965 will be the first class of over one hundred members to be graduated from Greene Central School.

Even as we grow in numbers we must not lose sight of the importance of the individual.

May the skills which you have acquired through the group process and your personal achievements make your high school experience a pleasant memory.

The faculty joins me in wishing you every success.

With anticipation and a little fear, they entered High School, anxious to move up and eager to become involved in High School activities.
By now they are used to High School life - the Seniors of the future . .

DIVERSITY OF PROGRAM . . .

. . . Serves a primary function as part of our school's program. It provides basic instruction in several occupational fields, so that its members may competently do whatever job is theirs to do to contribute to the whole society. Under Mrs. Church-Smith's able direction and with the cooperation of the school and the community these individuals are being trained to take their place in society.

We are proud of the endeavors of these people, and hope this class remains a part of Greene Central as long as there is a need.

LIZ BRUCE

Liz Bruce came to Greene in the month of February, 1964. From that time, she found a place in our hearts which will endure for years to come.

From Australia she brought her warmth and friendship, her accent and enthusiasm.

We will remember Liz, for all these things and more, as our bouncy senior from Australia.
